The Texas Early Childhood Ecosystem

ACCESS | 40% of all zip codes in Texas qualify as child care deserts for low-income children, meaning that 3x more children live in the zip code than the number of available child care slots. Children deserve equitable access to safe care that supports their health, learning, and development.

FAMILIES | In Texas, caring for an infant and toddler can cost 10-50% of many working families' annual earnings. According to federal recommendations, child care should cost no more than 7% of a family's income. Families need affordable care in their communities to be able to participate in the workforce.

EDUCATORS | According to the US Department of Treasury, more than half qualify for at least one form of public assistance. Early Childhood Educators deserve a living wage.

What is a Desert?

Child Care Deserts – Zip codes (US Census ZCTAs) with at least 30 children, ages 0-5, where the demand for child care is three times greater or more than the supply of child care.

Subsidized Child Care Deserts – Zip codes with at least 30 low-income children, ages 0-5, where the demand for subsidized child care is three times greater or more than the supply of subsidized child care.

the Early Education Allotment by $90M, prioritizing Pre-K attendance

CHILD CARE DESERTS

Child Care Deserts

Texas lost nearly 75,000 child care seats from 2023 to 2024. And a 24% drop in family child care providers from 2019 to 2024.

SB 599

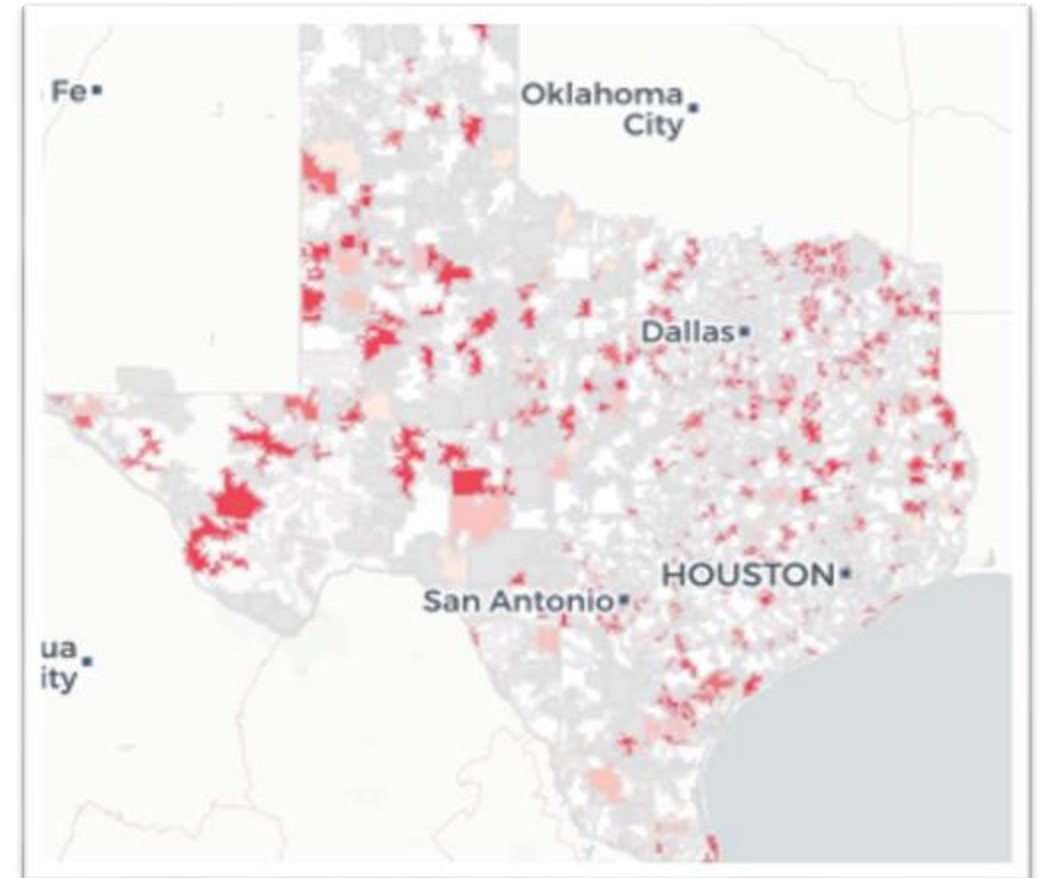

(West & Davis)

Decreases local hurdles for Texans wanting to create more home-based child care and increase access to care for working parents.

HB 2294

(Thompson, K. Bell, & Zaffirini)

Allows Local Workforce Development Boards (LWDBs) to pay the full reimbursement rates for child care providers in the Texas Rising Star Program regardless of the fees they charge parents. This supports access to high-quality, affordable early learning for Texas families.

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

ECE Workforce

S.B. 462 (Kolkhorst & Harris Davila)

Prioritizes subsidized child care to income-eligible child care workers for their own children.

Access

S.B. 1265 (Alvarado & Harris Davila)

Helps employers connect parents to child care options through centralized resources.

Data

H.B. 3963 (Capriglione & Paxton)

Advances the Early Childhood Integrated Data System to enhance collaboration among state agencies, improves early childhood programs, and informs policy decisions, with the Texas Education Agency serving as the lead agency.

GOVERNANCE OF EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

H.B. 117

(Schoolcraft)

Establishes a Governor's Task Force on the Governance of Early Childhood Education and Care, a step toward improving coordination, accountability, and outcomes for Texas children.

HB 4903

(Harris Davila & Birdwell)

Establishes a Quad Agency Child Care Initiative focused on collaboration, coordinating policies, and reviewing and streamlining regulations among the participating agencies, which would include TWC, HHSC, DFPS, and TEA.

Sunset Review Commission

DFPS, HHSC, DSHS and TWC

are all scheduled for the 2026-2027 Review Cycle, with recommendations reported in the 90th Legislative Session.

STATE OF TEXAS CURRENT GOVERNANCE STRUCTURE

Out of these, identify 2 or 3 you're most familiar with (i.e. if child care provider TWC, HHSC) and then talk about what those agencies do well to serve children and families individually and together and what they need to improve on.

- What they do well individually?
- What they need to improve on individually?
- In what ways can they improve their work together?
- In what ways do they do their work well together?
